

Top 4 Reasons to Outsource IT

Many small businesses don't think they need IT support in Cary, Apex, & Morrisville, but in fact, could benefit from outsourcing these services to a reputable company. Small- to medium-sized businesses frequently have limited budgets when it comes to IT and therefore they think outsourcing these services is financially out of reach. However, many companies, like CMIT Solutions, will right-size a plan to fit your IT and budgetary needs. Outsourcing IT can provide a wide range of benefits to any business, but specifically small- to medium-sized companies. Here are the top four reasons you should outsource your IT today.

Cost. Budgets are always tight. But IT support in Cary, Apex, & Morrisville doesn't have to be out of reach. As noted, a great IT company will right-size a plan to fit your needs. When you outsource IT, you'll know exactly what you can expect to pay each month, so budgeting is actually easier. You'll save more money because most outsourced IT companies take a proactive approach to IT. That means they want to keep your network and systems stable to avoid any catastrophes. When your network is stable, their business is stable. And if something goes wrong, they're still there to help you. Some companies may still use the break-fix model of IT where they only show up to fix something that's broken. The break-fix model of IT is on its way out, so, as a tip, any company who offers this service may be trying to make money off your future disasters. Find a company who is a true IT partner.

Security. Many small businesses think they're insulated from cyberattacks but that's a myth. In fact, hackers love small businesses because they traditionally have less security. A majority of cyberattacks target small business and cost those businesses millions each year. When you partner with a company that provides IT support in Cary, Apex, & Morrisville, you get a comprehensive security plan that will protect your business. Your IT partner will make sure your systems are up to date, maintain antivirus software, and monitor your network for suspicious activity.

Support. Of course, any quality IT support in Cary, Apex, & Morrisville involves round-the-clock support for your business. While you have the benefit of solid security by having an IT partner, you also have someone there 24/7 in case something goes wrong. Hackers don't work regular business hours, so if something goes awry in the middle of the night, you need to know you have someone in your corner. Quality IT professionals, like those at CMIT Solutions, will be there for you whenever you need them.

Freed resources. Because someone else is handling your IT, you'll be able to get time back. If you've been handling your own IT, you'll be able to focus on what you do best – your business! If your over-loaded staff has been holding down IT, you'll have additional resources with more time on their hands to focus on growing your business. Even if you had an in-house IT staff, those team members will be able to think big picture IT instead of the daily grind when you partner with a company for IT support in Cary, Apex, & Morrisville.
